Delta Resources Inc. won a $10.5 million Army contract to provide information technology support. The new contract is Arlington-based Delta's first task order with the Army.

Under the contract, which has a duration of four and a half years, Delta will provide hardware and software support for two IT systems for the assistant secretary of the army for installations and environment, among other tasks.

"We are going to hit the ground running, providing operational improvement immediately," said Maria Proestou, chief executive officer of the woman-owned small business, in a statement.

The company, founded in 2000, reported 2008 revenue of more than $30 million and employs more than 200.
